"Genetic insights into Shetland family history"

Jim Wilson
Professor of Human Genetics
Centre for Global Health Research
Usher Institute
University of Edinburgh
www.ed.ac.uk/viking

Over the last decade Jim led two large genetic epidemiology studies in Orkney and Shetland. These platform resources for health research benefit from rich phenotyping, deep genotyping, a tissue biobank and prospective follow up through record linkage and have contributed to the discovery of over 1000 novel associations.

Hailing from Orkney with Shetland connections Jim is very familiar within the islands and the huge health study undertaken here.

At the Bridge

James Teit and an Anthropology of Belonging

By Wendy Wickwire

"It is an exceptional book about a remarkable man who never received the recognition he deserved for his major input to what was then the new science of anthropology"

Free Virtual Conference
27 November 2021

Jon Sandison will present
'War Casualties and Remembrance in Shetland (WW1 & WW2)'

www.shetland-fhs.org.uk

Scottish Charity Number SC020018

'War Casualties and Remembrance in Shetland (WW1 & WW2)'

Jon Sandison

Jon is a History teacher at the Anderson High School in Lerwick, Shetland and a researcher, recently obtaining an M.A. in Military History with a dissertation focus on the Northern Isles soldiering during the Great War.

He has a passionate interest in Shetland's WW1 and WW2 heritage and related stories, having written various articles on Shetlanders on the Western Front, alongside a book entitled 'Grim Red Dawn' which focussed on the Shetland loss at the Battle of the Ancre, November 1916. He currently manages various Facebook research pages on Shetland and War.

Jon is also a local volunteer speaker and tour guide for the Commonwealth War Graves Commission locally.

In this talk, we will look at Remembrance in Shetland. This will focus on the Shetland County War Memorial, which commemorates the Shetland loss of both wars, as well as some of the stories in Lerwick Commonwealth War Graves Cemetery, which incorporates men from the islands and elsewhere.

Free Virtual Conference 27 November 2021

Laughton Johnston will present 'Lloyd's Shetland Captains and Mates 1850-1927'. What does this list tell us about Shetland seamen in the 19th and early 20th centuries?

www.shetland-fhs.org.uk

Scottish Charity Number SC020018

Lloyd's Shetland Captains and Mates 1850-1927

Laughton Johnston

Laughton will first explain the List and the information it holds. Then, the numbers of seamen being so large, he will concentrate on a sample of individuals, looking at their part in Shetland's diaspora, why they went into the merchant service, where they went and what they did. Along the way Laughton will briefly explain the political system, social structure and relevant events at this time that influenced the choice that these men made to go to sea.

Laughton's aim with this talk is to raise awareness of the extraordinary number of Shetland men who went to sea during this period. He is also hoping to stimulate Shetlanders at home and abroad to contact him with their family maritime stories of this period which he might add to a growing body of information he has collected and plans to put together and publish.

Laughton Johnston has written several books on aspects of Shetland's history including 'Victorians 60 Degrees North', 'A Kist of Emigrants' and most recently a biography of Tom Henderson who established Shetland's Museum and Archives, 'The Seaman who founded a Museum'.

Scottish Indexes Conference

SUNDAY 5 DECEMBER 2021

Learn how to trace your Scottish family history

www.scottishindexes.com

Finding Shetland Ancestors on scottishindexes.com

Graham & Emma Maxwell have helped us bring this event to a global audience today. Graham and Emma are genealogists who have been indexing historical records for over 20 years. Their website www.scottishindexes.com has built up over time and you can now search over a million records. You can search by place as well as name so that can help you narrow down your results. There is no registration or login required to access the indexes.

As well as indexing records, Graham and Emma host the Scottish Indexes Conference series. The next is coming up on Sunday 5 December 2021, it's a free timezone friendly event. Here is what's coming up:

'Dundee's Tallest Tenement' by Jennifer Jolly

'Tracing Jewish families in Scotland and Central-Eastern Europe' by Michael Tobias

'Scottish Marriage: Instantly Buckled for Life' by Chris Paton

'Ae fond kiss, and then we sever - Finding Records of Marital Disharmony' by Kirsty Wilkinson

Genealogy Q & A hosted by Graham and Emma Maxwell

'Tips for tracing your 18th century Scottish ancestors online' by Andrew Armstrong

'Business Records for the Family Historian' by Dr Irene O'Brien

'Solving Brickwalls' by Emma Maxwell
